bsi.

...making excellence a habit.

Anti-bribery Management System (ABMS): Implementing BS 10500

Course Description

An Anti-bribery Management System is an essential component of a successful organization. BS 10500 'Specification for an anti-bribery management system (ABMS)' can demonstrate that an organization has implemented reasonable and proportionate measures to prevent bribery.

Successful implementation of the standard will prove a commitment to ethical behavior which is a vital part of corporate governance in a well-managed organization. This commitment helps an organization to enhance its corporate reputation and to avoid potentially corrupt transactions.

Led by an experienced BSI tutor, this course will guide you through an implementation of an effective ABMS, using a combination of practical exercises, group activities and class discussions. A take-home Reference Toolkit will be provided containing essential documents and information to be referenced and used during your organization's implementation process.

Course Benefits

- Recognize the threat of bribery to your organization
- Learn about the new Anti-bribery Management System Standard and how it can benefit your organization
- Position your organization for a successful implementation of an Anti-bribery Management System
- Increase your ABMS knowledge
- Gain the confidence to implement an ABMS
- Take-home Reference Toolkit

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this training, delegates will be able to:

- Determine the threat of bribery within your organization
- Recognize key management system concepts of BS 10500
- List the benefits specific to your organization in relation to implementing an effective ABMS
- Identify a typical framework for implementing BS 10500 following the PDCA cycle
- Interpret the requirements of BS 10500 from an implementation perspective in the context of your organization
- Conduct a base line review of your organizations current position with regard to BS 10500

CITY OF LONDON POLICE

bsi.

Intended Audience	Anyone with responsibility for anti-bribery management including:

- Those with responsibilities for ethical behavior, corporate governance, risk and compliance , management systems, anti-bribery measures, human resources, security personnel, procurement and those managing/selecting business associates especially if operating in high risk bribery environments
- Anyone involved in implementation of risk management systems

Course Duration 2 days

Prerequisites There are no formal prerequisites, but it is recommended that you have some knowledge of ABMS, in particular BS 10500, as well as an understanding of how your organization operates and the likely risks it faces.

Further Information This course has been developed in association with City of London Police, Economic Crime & Fraud Training Academy.

A certificate of attendance is awarded to delegates who complete this course.

CITY OF LONDON POLICE