

bsi. Supply Chain Verification Auditing

Many organizations have little to no visibility into their supply chain operations, making them vulnerable to potential global exposures. Not knowing who your suppliers are and what they are doing puts your brand and supply chain at risk. Protecting your organizations' brand and operations requires on-site verification and a strong supply chain risk management program as any significant disruption has the potential to ripple through a supply chain and affect its global network. Supply chain transparency enables an organization to identify, manage, and respond to potential risks and establish a more robust supply chain risk and compliance management program.

BSI's Supply Chain Verification Auditing Service, VerifEye, enables organizations to gain complete visibility into their suppliers' practices worldwide. Our audits are customizable, allowing each client to structure the audit and audit report as they like. Each audit report includes the completed audit results, and suggested corrective actions. BSI's audits supply you with the information you need to better understand who your suppliers are and how they are operating.

BSI Audits and Global Network

BSI audits provide your organization cost-effective assurance that your suppliers are not exposing your brand to potential security, social responsibility or business continuity risks. Our auditing services encompasses verifying supplier qualifications, capacity, capabilities, and compliance against specified government and corporate requirements.

Our Audits include the following:

- C-TPAT & Supply Chain Security
- Supplier Pre-Qualification – PAS 7000
- FCPA and Anti-Bribery
- GMP/GDP, Quality
- Corporate Social Responsibility
- Conflict Minerals
- Environmental, Health and Safety
- Food Safety
- Business Continuity
- Information Security

BSI's global network is comprised of auditors and risk management professionals that have depth and breadth of experience, and are trained to assess your global supplier and corporate locations. BSI has auditors all over the world, which enables us to quickly and efficiently schedule and execute audits. Our auditors are familiar with their region's local languages, customs and norms, which allows them to effectively communicate and identify areas of concern with your global operations. We will confirm your suppliers' business information, policies and procedures are in line with your organizations requirements and objectives by conducting factory tours, employee and management interviews and document reviews.

Risk and Audit Analysis and Management

BSI offers you more than just an audit checklist. We provide you with an end-to-end solution to manage your global supply chain, and supplier risk and compliance programs. When you integrate BSI's Supply Chain Verification Auditing Service, VerifEye, within your supply chain risk management program, you'll acquire the competence and proficiency of our global audit network and innovative solutions.

BSI's Supply Chain Risk Exposure Evaluation Network (SCREEN)

solution allows you to proactively identify and monitor global threats and trends at a country level. SCREEN provides risk data and analysis in the areas of security, business continuity and social responsibility across more than - 20 different risk indicators in over 200 countries. This intelligence is infused into our audit reports through our Supplier Compliance Manager (SCM) solution to provide a deeper understanding of supplier and country level risk.

BSI's Supplier Compliance Manager (SCM) is an automated self-assessment and audit analysis solution that allows you to manage and track your risk and compliance management programs. SCM facilitates and analyzes BSI Supply Chain Verification Audits, internal audits and self-assessments to ensure you are able to capture and evaluate data through various assessment methods. Once an audit has been completed, the standard report will be uploaded into the SCM system where it will analyze that data, and provide you with a risk-based audit report.

BSI draws from a substantial full time global auditor base, which offers a level of stability that is vitally important in our mission to provide you with the most highly trained and competent auditors possible. Each auditor is equipped with the knowledge and training needed to perform specific audits within Security, Corporate Social Responsibility and Business Continuity. BSI's Supply Chain Verification Auditing Service is unique in the fact that it can include our supply chain intelligence to help actively identify areas of improvement as well as protect your global supply chain operations. By utilizing BSI's auditing services and risk-based approach, you will increase your supply chain visibility and resiliency.
